Frankfort Youth Heads IHS Industrial Ed. Clubs

Allen Waldvogel, 16, of Frankfort, a junior at Lincoln-Way high school, has been elected president of the Illinois Industrial Education Clubs at the annual spring convention of this high school organization. The meeting was held at Springfield.

There were nine other boys in the Lincoln-Way delegation and their campaigning among the other delegates was described as an important factor in Waldvogel's election.

The Illinois Industrial Educational Clubs have more than 1,500 members and an executive body consisting of 12 boys and six men. The men serve as advisers and are from different sections of the state. They represent labor and management. The 12 boys also come from different sections and all hold office within the state organization.

The state conclave is held in the house of representatives at the state capitol and the boys thus have opportunity to employ the same facilities in their deliberations as the legislators.

The others, beside Waldvogel, in the Lincoln-Way delegation were Duane Warning, Bill Seavertson, Larry Surges, John Kropp, Thomas Peterson, John Charvat Skip Kruzich, George Gibson and Barry Edmondson. Two faculty members, sponsors of the Lincoln-Way unit, gave up their week-end to accompany the boys to Springfield.

Pilgrim Virgin Devotions At St. Jude's This Week

Pilgrim Virgin devotions will be held at St. Jude's Church, New Lenox, on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evenings, April 20, 21 and 22nd at 8:00 p.m. On the closing evening, Friday, St. Joseph's Seminary choir, under the direction of Fr. Tarcisius Fischer, O.F.M., choir director at the Franciscan Seminary at Westmont, Ill., will provide the music for the devotion. All choir members are high school and college students who aspire to the priesthood.

The statue of the Blessed Mother has toured over 105 dioceses of Canada and the United States and was carved under the direction of Sister Lucy, sole survivor of the three children who saw the Blessed Mother in 1917 at Fatima. It was blessed by the late Pope Pius XII expressly for this tour, to alert as many people as possible to the increasing urgency of the message of Fatima.

Msgr., William C. McGrath, who has directed this unique pilgrimage for twelve years, will deliver the sermons on these three nights. He will explain the message of Fatima: that if a sufficient number of people do as the Blessed Mother asks, Russia will be converted and there will be peace in the world.

The school children will participate also. On the opening day, Wednesday, the first communicants formed a procession escorting the statue into the church. The upper classmen will participate today and the first graders tomorrow evening.

The public is invited to attend these special devotions.

Eighth grade students of Ann Rutledge school, Lincoln Estates, who have been earning money thru out the year to help finance their field trip to Niagara Falls may be foregoing the trip due to a recent burglary at the school.

The $300, which represents the amount accumulated was taken in the break-in at the school. The money was in a file cabinet. Lloyd Alton, principal, told the sheriff's deputies.

Entrance to the school was gained by breaking a window on the south side. The entire cabinet was ransacked and papers strewn about.

Warns Against Something For Nothing Salesmen

Will County State's Frank H. Masters has issued a warning to housewives to beware of slick, fast-talking salesmen operating what might be called a legitimate confidence game.

"Unfortunately," to quote the state's attorney, "these salesmen and their employers operate within the strict letter of the law so that prosecution for criminal fraud cannot be maintained. However, from every moral and ethical standard these tactics of these salesmen and their employers are wrong."

What do they sell? Vacuum cleaners—door to door. Some salesmen may have to wedge a foot in the door and then push but not these lads. They have a gimmick as old as old, that has kept rulers and bureaucrats in power thru the ages and opens doors like magic. The promise of something for nothing.

Using this pitch is practically as good as a license to steal, it was pointed out.

According to the state's attorney's warning, the salesman sometimes claims to be making a survey for some TV program and promises to reward the housewife for the time she spends in giving answers to a few questions. He also hauls his vacuum cleaner in with him.

He is not selling the machine he assures, her. He is going to give it to her as a bonus for supplying names for the company's sales program, according to Master's. The salesman has to have a record for the company of these cleaners that he is giving out, of course, so the housewife is induced to sign a conditional sales contract.

"If the housewife would only read the contract before she signs it," Masters went on, "she would see that it contains provisions printed in large bold type that completely negative any representations made by the salesman."

"Thus while the salesman may verbally represent that the housewife will receive the vacuum cleaner for nothing, or practically so the terms of the contract signed void all verbal representations and impose an immediate financial obligation upon the person signing the contract."

The company immediately negotiates the contract with a finance company and the next thing the housewife knows there is a demand on her for monthly payments.

The state's attorney points out that if citizens would limit their dealings to legitimate and responsible local merchants and salesmen they would fare better.

Area School Boards Elect Officers

School boards in the area canvassed votes, seated the newly elected members and chose their officers for the coming year the latter part of last week.

At Lincoln - Way high school Elias A. Brown, of Mokena, a new member, and Lorin Schleeter, Manhattan, reelected, took their places on the board. The same officers who served last year were reelected—Albert H. Krusemark, Frankfort, president; Lester Case, Manhattan, vice president, and J. E. Robinson, New Lenox, Secretary.

Krusemark has been president of the board since the Lincoln-Way district was formed in 1951.

Because the request for an increase in the educational tax rate was voted down the board must now wait to see if the new assessed valuation will rise to a point where more money will be coming in on the old rate before buying any furniture or equipment for the new addition.

In a letter parents of Lincoln-Way students, Supt. A. Hunter Chapman pointed out that defeat of the proposed tax increase will prevent the hiring of additional teachers with a result that classes will be more crowded and students may not be able to take all the subjects of their choices. Most important, he said, is that the morale of an excellent staff has suffered, "causing them to wonder if their services are desired in the Lincoln-Way community."

At Carl Sandburg high school, Orland Park, W. R. Blew was reelected president, and Mrs. Helen Hatch was reelected secretary. Charles McBurney was reelected to the board and the other place open this spring is filled by Sigred Linderroth.

The New Lenox grade school board elected William Heidrich president and reelected J. E. Robinson secretary and Mrs. Anne Krog treasurer. Heidrich, who served as president of the board in 1958-59, succeeds Jerry Shreffler, whose term on the board ended this spring. Shreffler was not a candidate for reelection. Roy Fitzer was reelected and the new member is J. B. Anderson, Jr.

At Mokena the president and secretary, Robert Geuther and Lyman F. Teague, were reelected to the board and to those posts.

At Orland Park Kenneth Halvorson was reelected president of the grade school board, Marguerite Carroll was chosen again to serve as secretary. The new board members are Joseph E. Bartell and Richard Lechowich.

At Frankfort Wilbur Hossbach, who was reelected to the board was also reelected president. New members of the board are Paul Lambrecht and Walter Haakinson. Lois Hossbach is secretary and Lawrence Woodman is treasurer. Their appointments are made at the beginning of the fiscal year which is July 1.

Daylight Savings

Daylight saving time will begin again this Sunday, April 24. That may sound a little early but the 24th is the date of the last Sunday in April and that is when daylight savings time begins. It runs until the last Sunday in October.

So before you go to bed Saturday night or Sunday morning, as the case may be, it would be a good thing to set your clocks up an hour.

New Lenox Board Seeks 500 Signers For Sewer Service

In order to speed progress on the proposed sewer project New Lenox residents are asked to sign up for connections.

Canvassers will make a house-to-house campaign to enlist users. Each householder will be asked to agree to connect to the sewer as soon as it is available. In order to show their intentions are bona-fide each signer will be required to deposit $10 with Village Clerk Robert McCleary.

It was explained that those who sign and make their deposits will save considerable money; they will not be required to pay a connection fee later.

The village board, it was explained, plan to enact an ordinance fixing connection fees at a substantial figure for those who do not sign up now.

Village Trustee Chester Bowman, chairman of the sewer committee, is in charge of the sign-up campaign.

Canvassers will try for a total of 500 applications for sewer service. Such a figure, it was said, would insure a monthly service charge of $5 or less. It also will expedite hook-ups to the system, it was believed.

It was pointed out, however, that while it is important to get signed applications on file the first thing that must be done to assure success of the program is to approve a $200,000 general obligation bond issue in a special referendum called for May 17. An $81,000 grant from the federal government will be forthcoming, it was announced, to aid in defraying the cost of the sewage treatment plant.

Detailed plans for the sewer have been completed, it was announced, so as soon as the bond issue is approved and the bonds delivered to the buyers work can be started. It is estimated that the program will be completed by June 1, 1961.

State Hospitals Appeal For Aid

BY MARGARET SEMMLER
Dr. John L. Cutler, superintendent in charge of the Tinley Park hospital, invited representatives of the surrounding area to a luncheon in the hospital, Monday noon. There were 24 present from Palos Park, Orland Park, Tinley Park, Mokena and Frankfort. The New Lenox representatives were unable to attend.

The purpose of the meeting was to present the serious conditions existing in all mental institutions in the state of Illinois. At the last session of the legislature, approval was given to a $150,000,000 bond issue which was also signed by the governor, but at the last general election the people of the state of Illinois voted for it, which count was a majority of the votes cast at that election, but it did not pass because the state constitution states it must be a two-third of the votes cast. Therefore it will be presented to the people of Illinois to vote on it again this fall.

Because of the serious conditions at the present state hospitals and the need for additional ones, in order to properly care for the mentally ill and the mentally retarded children, there is a waiting list of over 1500, some waiting two years or more, and there is no room. As soon as such citizens can be treated and have returned to their communities and families, thus making room for others for treatment.

Dr. Cutler explained that this is not a political issue, that both Democratic and Republican parties are in favor of the bond issue. Dr. Cutler explained that these patients are everyone's neighbors, citizens of Illinois and must be properly cared for.

Mrs. L. Trimble Steinbrecher, executive secretary of the board of Public Welfare commissions, stated how seriously this situation is and that Illinois ranks low in the states in caring for these patients. Mrs. Steinbrecher also stated that Illinois is the only state where such bond issues have been turned down by the people. She stated that because 1,000,000 people either did not vote, spoiled their ballot or did not vote it when at the polls, is the reason the proposition was lost last year in the election. Out of the 101 counties in Illinois, only three counties gave the constitutional support of two-third vote. New York state passed a bond issue of $350 million for the same purpose.

If Illinois voters will vote on this $150 million bond issue this fall, that will only be sufficient to catch up with the backlog now existing in caring for our friends and neighbors in this special manner. The state is not even able now to maintain what we have and some of the buildings are 115 years old, and some are great fire hazards. It was explained that in 16 years from now the increase of old people and retarded children will be reaching our state institutions, and it is absolutely necessary that each citizen realizes the seriousness of the situation and vote yes in the November election for this bond issue, of which all candidates are in full accord.

Joseph Cook Injured In Auto Crash

Joseph E. Cook, 32, of 1350 Spector rd., New Lenox, who operates a restaurant on Wolf road, Mokena, is in Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, as a result of a automobile accident early Monday morning.

According to the Joliet city police report, Cook was traveling west on Francis road, apparently at high speed and failed to stop at Gougar road. The car skidded some 175 feet, police said, before it crashed into one tree and side-swiped another.

The impact hurled Cook under the dashboard. He was removed to the hospital in a Joliet fire department ambulance. He was cut and bruised about the face and right wrist and has possible rib fractures.

His condition was listed as serious but he is reported to be progressing satisfactorily.

PIPELINERS OF ENERGY

Natural Gas Plays Vital Role in Steelmaking

Space Age steelmaking requires the intense, controlled heat only natural gas can provide. Gas is used in blast furnaces, open hearths, soaking pits ... in virtually every basic phase of steel production.

Demand for natural gas in steelmaking is big and growing bigger. Glassmaking, too, depends on this clean-burning energy fuel. Thousands of fabricators -- large and small -- make products better and more economically because natural gas is readily available.

In keeping pace with zooming energy requirements, Texas Eastern continues to expand its natural gas and petroleum products pipeline systems. Serving the Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard states, Texas Eastern plays a vital role as Pipeliner of Energy to the Nation.

John E. Ludwig,

On Second Thot

By GLENN F. LOGAN

Listening to disk offerings on a couple of radio stations the other day driving set me to wondering how the selections were made.

After hearing a few instrumental numbers, mixed in with some vocals it made me shudder to think what the rejects must have been.

How they could have worse, however, is difficult to imagine.

In one piece the singer -- to use the term loosely -- intoned the phrase "your hot" from time to time. If it had been mid-July and temperature up in the 90's the words no doubt would have described the condition of this department.

At it was your correspondent was quite comfortable -- neither too cool nor too warm. But after a couple of courses and one more time it became clear that the words had nothing to do with temperature but rather the organ that serves as the center or pump house for the circulatory system.

And "ro-ho-hose" did not deal with tubing, stockings nor was it something out of a strange tongue; rather it had to do with flowers.

"Muh-huh-huh-thur," of course, is quite plain and in this long form is used with such ballads as "Mah muh-huh-huh-thur's Ro-ho-zareee." Sometimes the short form "Muh-thur" is used as in "Muh-thur Mah-Creeee."

As far as this department is able to determine after listening to numerous modern platters the lyrics are not too important as long as they are unintelligible. Of course the singer can aid considerably in this phase. Even if the song writer comes up with words that make sense and are strung together in more or less logical sequence the singer can mumble and slur them so no one can understand.

The requirements for a successful piece of music in the modern manner appear to be quite simple, loud, flat and no melody.

"Get with the beat man," advises a co-worker, "get with the beat."

Heaven help us!

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

With no present distortion of business statistics by a current surge of inflation, the nation is expected to end 1960 with a Gross National Product of $500 billion. The "GNP," as it is usually termed in financial reports, is the combined spending of national and local governments, business firms and individuals. This is a new high for the nation and about four per cent over the 1959 figure.

Some forecasters are predicting as high as $520 billion for 1960. Fortune Magazine which has been rather accurate in the past, predicts the GNP for the year will be $512 billion. The large financial and industrial organizations watch this GNP figure closely.

Business spending for new plant and equipment is increasing its pace. This spending is being forced to meet new demand as well as to cope with competitive conditions that have arisen thru scientific developments in products and processes. Development of automation is very important and firms in this field are doing very well. There are a number of firms which have specialized in industrial controls devices for years. Electronics is very important in this field, but the word electronics includes so many activities, that it is sometimes confusing to the public. The usual investment reference volumes quickly reveal the particular firms main emphasis. Inquiry among steel makers, indicates that the large firms expect that about June, the rate of production will be down to something a little over 60 per cent of capacity, but that it will pick up again and end the year about 75 to 80 per cent of capacity.

The business statistics indicate we are not in a boom period, but certainly general business is good and no present indications of a substantial turn down.

The individual without corporate experience, often does not realize that officers and directors of corporations are also individuals who have become specialists in management. The pressure on them to have their firms show a profit is heavy.

Competition between firms within an industry is becoming keen. Like individuals in tight competition, there is more than a little soul-searching in progress in industrial management. As with individuals, lack of real competition brings on careless management and incompetents sometimes reach high places.

Management personnel are attending more and more seminars and special lecture courses. The competition from foreign manufacturers is forcing more than superficial study.

Several recent studies of European cost of manufacture direct labor cost, is not by any means, the whole story. The number of salaried employees is an important cost.

Cameron Hawley, a student of management and author of several books on the subject, calls this the era of the "nice guy" with top executives trying to keep everyone happy. He found some European firms with more than 50 per cent less salaried employees. He also found many American firms with a fetish for "committee decisions" on management problems. He and many other students of management, feel that real management ability and leadership, is lost in the "committee system" of operation. Some students of management feel the committee system is merely a device to diffuse responsibility for management decisions. It enables the incompetent to remain at the top since he, personally, has not made any bad decisions. Much like the government agencies.

Smaller firms often can easily compete with the large firms as the management is forceful and prompt in business decisions. The top management is paid top salary due to his ability to make more good than bad decisions.

Competition forces these changes.

Pre school Children To Take Exams

The New Lenox grade school rules require every child who enters school to have a physical and dental examination. This first examination is given while the youngster is of -- or just emerging from -- pre-school age. A second examination of this scope is required when the pupil enters the fifth grade and another is due before entering high school.

It will be the responsibility of parents to present a record of such examination to the school before your child can enter in September

Editorials

For Safety's Sake

When the referee of a professional boxing match completes his instructions to the principals he usually concludes with the admonition -- "protect yourselves at all times and come out fighting."

We would like to pass the same advice to motorists who use that section of Francis road between New Lenox and Mokena. That is the section where the road is crossed by the Wabash railway.

The motorist will do well to protect himself and it is our hope that he will also join in the fight to obtain automatic warning signals for the Francis road crossing.

Three persons were killed on that crossing last Christmas. Apparently the driver of the car was unable to see the approaching train because of brush and the terrain. In winter one has a better chance to see a train than in the months when shrubs and trees are in leaf and corn is standing tall in adjoining fields. It is really a blind one then.

Automatic signals that will warn of approaching trains would help the situation but motorists should remember that any mechanical device can and does fail. Therefore, even if and when warning signals are installed motorists will be wise if they have their cars in firm control when they draw near the tracks so they can stop if a train should happen to be coming.

New Lenox and Mokena town officials and Will county officials have indicated they will help toward getting safeguards for this crossing. Suitable action should be taken immediately to get such a request to the attention of the Illinois Commerce Commission. Francis road is attracting more and more traffic. People unfamiliar with the road can come up on this rail crossing before they are aware of it.

We hope something will be done to guard this hazard before other lives are forfeited.

Local doctors and dentists should have the proper forms to complete and may be secured at the Oakview school office before going for the examinations. These examinations may be taken at any time before the opening of school.

If you are a member of a religious group which disapproves of such an examination you must submit a statement from the proper religious authority indicating that you request a waiver of this recommendation.

While there is no legal requirement that your child must be immunized for any disease, the school recommends that your child receive smallpox vaccination, polio shots, and DPT immunization at this time. DPT's are usually administered early in life but boosters for this are recommended when the child starts school and again at approximately the age of ten. Many doctors are now recommending a fourth shot for protection from polio.

Asks Village Payment For Water Damage

Floods came to Fred Weitendorf, Bowen st., Frankfort late last week and when the water subsided his basement recreation room was a wreck, he complained to the village board.

Weitendorf blames a cut tile line for his troubles. The drain tile from his basement runs over to a tile on White street. Sewer pipe is now being laid along White street. Late last week the ditch along that thoroughfare caved in. The cave-in is said to have cut the tile coming from the Weitendorf home. Then came the rains.

The ditch filled and the water is said to have backed along the tile to overrun the Weitendorf basement. The contractor put in a pump to pull the water out of the ditch. It was believed that sometime during the night the pump stopped but the water didn't.

A bill from Mr. Weitendorf was presented to the village board at its meeting Monday night. The claim is for $82.50 plus labor for cleaning up the basement. Broken down the bill shows $25 for a 9 by 12 rug; $10 for 3 x 6 rugs; $7.50 for cleaning clothes and $40 for an electric train caught in the flood.

The village board spent considerable time in discussing various other problems arising from the sewer project. One thing decided by the board was to ban multiple lines running into one connection. It also banned hooking up old tiles to the new sewer.

Persons along White street who have not done so and householders in the west section of the village where sewer crews will be working this and next week are requested by Engineer Robert Hamilton to put in a stake where they want the stub from the main located for their connection.

Crossing the New York Central tracks on Elm street with the sewer will cost the village $50 cash now plus $20 a year hereafter. An agreement to this effect was approved by the board but with reluctance.

Payment of $19,511 was allowed by the board to D'Andrea Construction Co., which is installing the sewers. To date, Hamilton reported, a total of $83,437 has been allowed for work completed of which 10 per cent has been withheld as specified in the contract. Approximately 25 per cent of the total footage of sewer pipe is installed and on a dollar basis about 30 per cent of the job done. Also allowed were legal fees for work done in connection with the sewer, $1,075 to Chapman and Cutler, Chicago, and $2,000 to Albert H. Krusemark, village attorney. Also approved was $1,000 a bill of $1,000 for the engineer and $685 for the resident engineer and his expenses.

Vikings Clip Eagles Wings In SWS

BY DENNIS LAVERY

The Carl Sandburg Eagles were turned back in quest of its second conference victory by the Home-wood-Flossmoor, 8-5. Leighton Scott did a great relief job for Sandburg.

With Jim Jefferies on the mound for C.S., the Vikings wasted no time in scoring. The first man up, Sullivan, singled to center field. Batting third, Ed McMorris doubled down the leftfield line sending Sullivan to third. Dick Barry, booted a grounder from Brower and two runs scored.

Up for the first time, the Sandburg nine had its troubles. Filak, the H-F pitcher, brought a big curve ball to the park. Ted Lavine struck out, Duane Erickson grounded to the third baseman and Vince DiBeneditto was out second to first. Filak had his opposing batters missing his effective pitches.

Five more tallies were pushed across for the visitors in the first of the second. Jefferies walked the first two men. They were moved to second and third when Filak sacrificed. With the top of the batting order up, Flossmoor again threatened. Sullivan doubled, scoring two runs. Jefferies walked the next Viking putting men on first and second. With two away, it wasn't over. Brower hit the first pitch to right field scoring Sullivan. The fourth and fifth runs were driven in long single by Al Schelling. Olson ended the inning by rolling out to the pitcher.

Jefferies managed to get two men out in the third. But he walked in the eighth run of the game and Meier looked around for help. Jim had walked six men in two and two third innings. This was his undoing.

Hank sent Leighton Scott in to stem the tide. Scott proved to be the man. With the bases loaded, he struck out the first two men to face him to retire the side. It was still slim pickings with the bats for Sandburg. Although Dick Barry doubled for the first hit, he died on second when the next batters flew out to left field.

With Scott on the hill, Flossmoor was finished with their scoring. The first batter, Schelling, singled, but was quickly picked-off by Scott to Erickson. The final two putouts were easy grounders to Scott.

The last half of the fifth saw eleven Eagles come to the plate. Filak lost his effectiveness. He walked the first four men to come to bat giving up one run. With two out he again managed to walk four more in a row, gifting C.S. with four runs, without a hit. This finished Filak's stint. Cowan took over with two out and the bases loaded. He promptly walked Steve Chojnacki, forcing Erickson home with run number five. John Neal ended the inning by striking out.

The sixth and seventh innings displayed more pitching ability than the entire first five innings. Only one man reached first against Leighton Scott and Flossmoor, with Shelling finishing the game, wasn't to be out done. He struck out Gorney, Chojnacki and Neal to end the contest.

It wasn't all gloom in the Eagle dugout. Coach Meier has found a fine asset in Leighton Scott for his pitching staff. If both Swayne and Scott can continue as they have in previous performances, Sandburg will have a very rough one-two pitching combination.

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

BY DEAN DALLAS
PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

The SWS baseball circuit got underway on schedule, for the most part. However, it has proved to be a rather disastrous beginning for the area teams.

Bremen has failed to manage a win for the entire beginning. Carl Sandburg and Lincoln-Way have victories over Reavis. Otherwise--to this date--they have been unable to win. All three teams failed in the opening exhibition games.

Evergreen Park has been pounding the lumps on the opposition, thus far. The Mustangs were to be loaded with fine hitters. They have been. It appears that Evergreen will be the team to beat in the SWS.

Two years ago the Evergreen team went far in the state baseball contests. The Mustangs are probably not that strong this year, but should be strong enough to take it all in the SWS.

Carl Sandburg is not out of the race, at this point, but they certainly face an uphill battle for the league crown. Rich has been winning, squeaking through, etc. This seems to be their usual style, but it wins championships.

Sandburg has lost just once, 8-5, to Homewood-Flossmoor, but the Eagles failed to show any hitting power at all in that loss. Leighton Scott, who did an excellent job of relief, was the bright spot in the Eagles' nest. Perhaps he can team with Bud Swayne and give Sandburg the needed pitching lift.

Bremen has yet to find the winning mark. Pete Loverich has not been finding the plate. In fact, the Bremen's only pitcher is having far more trouble this year than he did his junior year. Bremen batting power gave him plenty of cushion at these times.

Lincoln-Way's Jonas Lashmet bemoans that fact that none of his pitchers have been coming through. "If we just had some pitching." Last year the Knights were getting a rather creditable job of pitching, but were unable to get hitting.

This year they have been able to score more, but haven't been getting as fine a job of pitching. In the Lincoln-Way victory over Reavis the score was 11-6.

If the Knights hitting remains, Lashmet might get the pitchers coming and Lincoln-Way could move up.

At the moment, there does not appear to be much hope of a

C. Of C. Acts To Banish Litter On Frankfort Sts.

As a means to eliminate litter from Frankfort streets the Chamber of Commerce will install half a dozen rubbish receptacles about the business district. Ant it is their hope that the public makes use of them.

Cigaret packages, cigar, candy and gum wrappings will look better in the trash cans than on the streets, a spokesman said, and the same goes for discarded sales bills, circulars and other letters.

The receptacles will have a capacity of 15 gallons and be equipped with tops and handles. The village has arranged with the Streepy company, which has the garbage removal contract, to empty the containers each week.
